OVERVIEW

TAABAR (registered under the Rajasthan Society Registrations Act, 1958) is a non-governmental organization based out of Jaipur, Rajasthan (India). TAABAR began its journey in the year 2006 with its first project centered around prevention and protection of children living on streets. The project also focused on awareness and treatment of HIV/AIDS. This project marked the official start of TAABAR which was later established as TAABAR Society in 2007.

TAABAR aspires for a free and caring society for the children who are in need of care and protection, underprivileged who are considered insignificant in most of the spheres of development and are more exploited and vulnerable.

TAABAR Society helps and supports children in difficult circumstances by providing community-based rehabilitation for orphans, runaways, street children, slum children, and the misguided youth through its various programs.

Vision

To build a free, caring and fair society for vulnerable children and neglected communities with equal opportunities especially to children and women."

Mission

TAABAR mission is to ensure protection of rights and entitlements of children and to empower communities through training, advocacy, Awareness, Behavioral change and Rehabilitation.

Values

Care and Protection

We believe that every child is precious and is the future of the nation. Every child has constitutional rights and legal safeguards but the situation of our children is getting worse due to poverty and other socio-economic problems such as rapid industrialization, urbanization and migration etc. So we are focused on providing care and protection to these innocent children so that we can save them from different types of exploitation.

Transparency, Dedication and Commitment

These are our core values which guide our action and decisions to achieve the objectives of the organization in line with our vision and mission. We are committed to build a 'shining India' by protecting future generations. We believe in transparent relationships with community, our staff, partners and donors.

Education, Empowerment and Healthy Growth

Every child needs a healthy environment to grow up in, but unfortunately street children are disadvantaged and deprived of all the necessities of childhood which are needed for healthy development. We are making an effort to provide them with shelter and helping to repatriate and reunite them with their own families by providing education, vocational and personality development training.

Objectives

- To provide care and protection to street children.
- To preserve, protect and advocate their childhood rights at national and international level.
- To bring street children back into the life and mainstream of society by providing them with life's basic necessities.
- To make society aware of the need to help protect this vulnerable group from risk.
- Networking and liaison with government departments and like-minded NGOs for the same cause.
- To provide rehabilitation and referral services for children in special need.
- To create public awareness about the problems and needs of street children.

DAY CARE CENTRE

COVID-19 pandemic has badly influenced the growing up of children and adolescents. Many lives are lost, and many have lost the will to live. Today's generation might see themselves as lost generation for years and years in the future. One year down the pandemic and the increase is non-stop affecting the lives of people all over the world. One of the most visible and controversial means by which COVID-19 has affected the lives of young people is due to closing of educational centers.

According to UNESCO, the education of nearly 1.6 billion pupils in 190 countries has so far been affected – that's 90% of the world's school-age children. This is a crucial time for the education sector—board examinations, nursery school admissions, entrance tests of various universities and competitive examinations, among others, are all held during this period. As the days pass by with no immediate solution to stop the outbreak of Covid-19, school and university closures will not only have a short-term impact on the continuity of learning for more than 285 million young learners in India but also engender far-reaching economic and societal consequences.

“The outbreak of Corona pandemic suddenly posed as a threat. TAABAR neither thought about this type of unprecedented situation nor was it prepared to face such type of pandemic.”

The structure of schooling and learning, including teaching and assessment methodologies, was the first to be affected by these closures. Only a handful of private schools could adopt online teaching methods. Their low-income private and government school counterparts, on the other hand, have completely shut down for not having access to e-learning solutions. The students, in addition to the missed opportunities for learning, no longer have access to healthy meals during this time and are subject to economic and social stress.

TAABAR's day care center is closed since February 2020 as per the order and advisory of government. Due to lack of resources, our online education was not at par due to technology barriers for children as well as students which posed a great challenge. We started studying children via WhatsApp, but major target group at TAABAR come from the lower social strata that were not equipped with cell phone service. Parents were concerned about educating their children but restricted because affording online tools was a mock to their situation as many of them lost their jobs.

In addition, online education is affecting the physical health and mental health of children. Intellectuals are trying to tell the world impact of online education on children's future. Online sessions have emerged as the go-to solution for schools looking to resume classes despite lockdown. The trend has raised many concerns among educational experts, including those at UNESCO and UNICEF. While some have expressed alarm about the potential dangers of internet exposure for young children, others say they are scared the digital shift may alienate economically disadvantaged students who don't have access to the technology digital lessons require.

On 15 April, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), which is engaged in humanitarian aid for young ones around the world, said "millions of children are at increased risk of harm as their lives move increasingly online during lockdown in the Covid-19 pandemic". According to the statement, the internet exposure puts children at the risk of "online sexual exploitation and grooming, as predators look to exploit the Covid-19 pandemic". Online grooming, a worrying product of the internet and social media age, involves predatory adults building online relationships with gullible children and tricking or pressuring them into sexual behavior. "Under the shadow of Covid-19, the lives of millions of children have temporarily shrunk to just their homes and their screens. We must help them navigate this new reality," the statement quoted UNICEF executive director Henrietta Fore as saying.

Healthcare of Children and Community

This year, many outdoor patients reported at Mobile Clinic Van with various ailments. At the Mobile Clinic Van, they were provided consultation, examination, medicines, counseling, education, referral services at doorstep. There was a total of 1550 children including 699 male children and by-product of urbanization that is a big concern for all states and metro cities. Slum children are much neglected and deprived of basic rights and they become a part of street life. They just step out sometimes due to negligence of their parents, poor economic condition of the family, just for fun and time pass because no one is there at home to take care of them. Well to do working couples can afford luxurious day care center for their children, but these poor people leave their children totally dependent on God' wish or on their fate. In such conditions, some of them stay back at home, but most of them start living by their own way. As a preventive measure, TAABAR started Day cum Health Care Centre that provide education, health, nutrition, community strengthening services in slum or underprivileged areas of Jaipur. TAABAR team dedicatedly works in shifts to groom these children and ensuring their right to education along with other rights. Not only are the children, but communities, parent's stakeholders were involved in this process.

- Enroll children in schools
- Children are getting pre-school education
- Children are getting after school support, educational support (tuition fee, books, uniforms, health hygiene, etc.)
- Few of children are associated with the theatre group
- Children are being prepared as change agent to educate people on social issues through rallies, street plays, Baal Panchayat etc.

- Developing leadership skills through children committee and children's parliament
- Provide health education to build knowledge, skills and positive attitudes about health.
- Health education motivates students to improve and maintain their health, prevent disease, and reduce risky behaviors.
- Chronic disease awareness and prevention

Benefits of Health cum Daycare Center

Our center provides a sequence of different fun and learning activities that include after school support, teaching, theatre, storytelling, healthcare, counselling. These activities help in child's intellectual growth and development, especially for young children. The structured times for the classes and other activities also help shape a child's behavior.

Teachers build their confidence and articulation.

Festivals, Celebrations and Events

Jaipur is the capital of Rajasthan state so various types of people from all over country, its traditional peoples, still facing the problems in settling up their lives. The below mentioned are three slum areas where Snake Charmers, Bnajars and other nomadic tribes live in ghettos.

In addition, TAABAR distributed cooked food packet during the lock down in isolated communities because of lock down people become hand to mouth. They were not having employment, their savings was over. It was difficult time. TAABAR helped and supported such migrants and families from isolated communities

Healthcare in Isolated Communities

Around 200 children of deprived communities and marginalized communities (Snake Charmers, nomadic tribes and migrants) are being catered and nurtured by providing various services that are necessary to ensure their holistic growth and development. However, education is a fundamental and constitutional right but due to adverse geographic conditions, poverty, lack of mainstreaming hundreds of children is still deprived from educational rights in Jaipur city. Besides this, there are so many problems associated with like malnutrition, negligence, protection, poor health that make these children more vulnerable. TAABAR is running three-day care centers for these underprivileged children.

Accessibility and affordability of health care, particularly is a serious preposition for the vast majority of the population, especially at the tertiary level. For a sustainable and effective model for health for all, maintaining synergy between cost, quality and access to essential health care services is crucial. We need an enabling environment to improve the urban healthcare through collaborative action to provide affordable tools to those who need it the most.

Urban Slums in India

In a country like India, with so much population, providing affordable health care in an equitable way comes with its own set of challenges.

In the wake of the COVID-19, public health has been brought to the forefront. Amidst the ongoing challenges of mitigating the pandemic, one thing has become clear – the need for affordable and accessible health care for all. As the pandemic has taught us, diseases know no boundaries and do not restrict themselves to a particular set of people, nation or community.

Children's Health in Urban Slums

The increasing number of urban residents and migrants into the urban areas creates environmental problems that are directly affects their health. Poor environmental condition, sanitation and inadequate diet, results in high malnutrition., especially urban poor children living in urban slums. Child population living in urban slums in India faces exclusion from essential health services and other services like safe drinking water, sanitation, education etc. Children's are the victim of many diseases and disasters. Childhood to them is only a fantasy or nightmare.

Rajasthan

Rajasthan, physically the largest state in the Indian Union is situated in the North-West part of the country, and has 56 million (or 5 percent) of the country's population.

Rajasthan is divided into six zones covering 33 districts, 237 blocks and 41,353 villages. 70 percent of the population is dependent of agriculture for livelihood. Water availability is very low. More than 60 percent of Rajasthan is desert, with 1 percent of India's water resources to support 10 percent of the country's land and 5 percent of the population. Most common health problems in Rajasthan are malnutrition, asthma, heart disease, chronic kidney disease, knee joint pain, tuberculosis, dengue, malaria, silicosis, hypertension, cataract, hearing loss, diabetes etc.

Jaipur

Jaipur is a capital of the state of Rajasthan and worldwide known for its scientific town planning. Jaipur is India's 7th fastest growing city and the 24th fastest growing urban center in the world. Main economic drivers in the city are trading, administration and tourism activities and local handicraft industries. Along with educated immigrants the city also offers impressive job opportunities to the immigrants in informal sector. There are number of factories of handicraft, carpet, precious and semi-precious stones, block printing, dyeing, jewelry, glass work and textiles. These industries need cheap and intensive human labor, which is provided by the immigrants and these immigrants in search of a place to live settled down in slums. This is how slums are rapidly growing in the city.

The excess in the urban poor population has created a gap in delivery of healthcare services to the underserved children and families. Among the slum dwellers, communicable disease such as tuberculosis and malaria get easily spread due to ignorance of health-seeking behavior.

Despite the presence of a good network of public and private healthcare facilities, addressing the growing demand of the health needs of the underprivileged section of the city is a big challenge. Moreover, with majority of the slum population surviving on a very low annual income, spending on healthcare services becomes a big concern for the families.

Majority of the slum clusters are located on the outskirts that include forestlands and flood prone areas. The residents have poor living conditions with inadequate availability of water and sanitation facilities, and overcrowding.

Case Study II

Bhawna Mahawar is a 16-year-old girl. She is a regular student of day cum health care center. She has 5 members in her family.

Bhawna's father works in a small private company and mother is a housewife. Bhawna had speaking problem from the childhood. She started speaking a little after 4 years from her birth. Parents did not send her to school for the long time due to this speaking problem. Parents took her to the hospital and provided medical treatment. Doctors told her parents that she has a hole in the wall (heart) during the consultation. After the 6 months of the medical treatment she started speaking. She is studying at the day cum health care center from the long time but she was not coming from last few days. During the home visit by teacher her parents said that she is not feeling well from last few days. Teacher asked her parents if she has taken to any hospital for the treatment. After that parents explained her medical history with reports to the teacher. After that teacher told them about Mobile clinic van services and linked them with medical team so they can consult with the doctor. Later, Bhawna was referred to the government hospital by mobile clinic van. Now the family is in regular contact with the senior cardiologist for her medical treatment. Parents said thanks to teachers for their help and support.

BAL BASERA

Bal Basera and COVID-19

Unexpectedly, the pandemic posed many undemanding challenges and changed the organization's working. The decision of lock down by central and state government to prevent the spread of Corona brought the work to a standstill. It was a big challenge for the organization as it was beyond everyone's thought that the pandemic would have such terrible consequences.

The secretary of TAABAR called an emergency meeting to prepare a strategy for smooth operations and management of Bal Basera during the unprecedented time of lock down due to pandemic. In the meeting, it was decided that at a time, six members would perform their duty and rest of the staff will stay at home. The female staff including counsellor, educator, vocational trainer, etc. was strictly instructed to stay at home. Sweepers and cleaners were restricted to come in Shelter home until interim order. The organization faced a lot of difficulties and challenges in the absence of most essential and important cleaning staff. It was very difficult to manage children with less staff. However, TAABAR tried its best to engage children and maintain their regular routine but proved challenging. To meet the needs of children, TAABAR issued commutation pass for the staff and vehicle. Since the staff was limited, there was a big challenge to continue the activities for positive engagement of the children like their educational classes, art and craft classes etc.

The biggest problem was the cleanliness of the shelter home as the sweeper lived in the Corona affected area. Staff was shouldering up the responsibility of cleanliness of the shelter home that was herculean and time consuming task. Six people were discharging the duties of others such as they were yoga instructor, teacher, theatre teacher, vocational trainer.

The children started questioning when Prime Minister Narendra Modi urged people across India to clap their hands and bang vessels to show appreciation for doctors, nurses, police and others who were continue serving to fight against Corona Virus. They were scared. There were number of questions into the mind of children such as what was happening? Why teachers were not coming? Why guests were not coming? What is Corona, etc.?

TAABAR never faced such situation and as a result, a brainstorming session was organized to come up with following strategies:

1. Engaged the staff members online.
2. Educate children about Corona Virus Pandemic and measures of prevention and their roles and responsibilities to prevent the spread of Corona.
3. Started counselling sessions for children to cope up with the situation.
4. Engaged children in kitchen activities.

Adopting these strategies helped the organization adapt to the new normal. An inn near Bal Basera Shelter home was converted into quarantine center to accommodate the police officials. Six members of TAABAR team were working 24X7. It was a big challenge to prevent them from the situation of burnout, frustration, and disappointment. All the necessary precautions were taken care of and as a result, all the 46 children were safe and healthy, and reunited with families through the help of Bihar state government.

Restoration

Children who are missing, runaway and homeless due to any reason are sent in

Bal Basera Shelter Home by Child Welfare Committee. As the principle of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of the Children) Act, 2015 makes provision for the reunification of children and a child should be with his biological family. TAABAR initiate the process of tracing the children's parents. When parents are traced, child welfare committee orders the restoration of children after due social investigation. Sometimes parents are not able to travel due to various reason in such conditions TAABAR team escorts the children. Since March 2020 to March 2021, 37 children were reunited with their families and 60 children were transferred to Bihar.

"The principle of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of the Children) Act, 2015 makes provision for the reunification of children and a child should be with his biological family."

Art and Craft Session at Bal Basera

Craft activities foster communication, listening, attention and imagination. These activities can enhance mental health and wellbeing as well as fostering a whole range of developmental skills in children, such as:

- Fine motor skills
Enhancing children's hand eye co-ordination and building levels of manual dexterity.
- Identification of shapes, colors and texture
Working with materials teaches them about colors, shapes and textures. How things work and how they fit together.
- Creativity
Craft encourages children to play and experiment in a fun and relaxed environment.

Festival Celebrations

Celebrating festivals is a great way to teach children about the culture. Knowing more about why a festival is celebrated, what its significance is, and why we started celebrating it in the first place, can help a child understand the importance and significance of each festival and it can be great way to impart values to the child as well.

Health Check-ups& Counselling

Health is defined as a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity. Regular health check-ups including check-ups for general health, mental health and dental health are essential for child's health and development. Doctor is providing regular visits to both the shelter homes for the wellbeing of the children.

Importance of regular Health Check-up

Health check-ups in shelter homes are important as they help:

- To assess normal development of the child
- Early detection of disease/ abnormalities, if any
- To provide specialist services to needy children

Case Study III

Avinash, 14 years, hails from Samastipur, Bihar. His father is a farm labor and mother looks after family. He has five more siblings, three brothers, and two sisters. Avinash ranks fourth among them. Avinash has studied up to 6th standard, but he could not pursue further as he had to move from his village to earn money. However, Avinash's father works as farm labor and one of his elder brother works as construction labor but their jobs are not consistent in nature. Someone named Gayasuddin, a person from nearby village, cajoled him for an easy life in Jaipur. That man assured him that he could continue his studies there and would watch television, life in Jaipur city would be a far better life. Avinash came to Jaipur with lots of excitement for a better life for himself. However, reality was totally different. That man engaged him in bangle making where, he had to work from 7 am to 1 am every day. Avinash was allowed to take bath once in a week i.e. on Sunday. That man agreed to pay Rs. 3,000/month. He received only two months' payment though he worked for four months. The master was an abusive person and used to scold and beat quiet often. The young boy was quiet tortured and disappointed and wanted to go back to his village. Avinash set free from there in a rescue operation and brought to Bal-Basera after CWC order. Though he discontinued his school almost 2-3 years back but he easily picked-up things here. He takes interest in studies and is a bright student as well. Theatre, art, and craft activities are his favorite and he participates willingly.

Avinash wants to continue his studies after going from here as he wishes to become a teacher. His dream is to provide his family a better life condition.

Case Study IV

When Deepak entered Bal Basera, we observed some injuries on his body and swelling on his face. He Told, "One day a man came to my sister's home to discuss about work for me in Jaipur. I came to Jaipur for work with that man after two days. Everything was going normal for the first month. That man started abusing me after one month and I was beaten up by iron rod and wooden stick several times. Then I told him that I want to talk to my sister and he didn't like it. He came up with a hot iron rod and put it on my neck. There were some other boys also working at the same place but they were elder then I. When I used to go for sleep with them, they abused me several times. I worked for two years in this situation. I did not get a single coin for work done. Whenever I tried to show my desire to eat something, I was beaten up for this reason as well."

Deepak requested to Bal-Basera staff for food during counselling session. Staff members immediately provided him food and he started eating. Bal-Basera shelter home immediately wrote a letter to inform CWC (child welfare committee) about this case and suggested them to take a strong action against that man. Bal-Basra shelter home also informed the police station officer of that particular area where Deepak was working. The police officer formed a team of Bal-Basera staff members and four police constables for rescue. They reached at the address given by Deepak to find that man. After investigation police found he is living at another place now. Police from there arrested him. Police lodged a case against him. After that, Deepak and staff members came back to Bal-Basera shelter home. Medical treatment was given to Deepak and now he has good health. He is participating in all the activities at Bal-Basera.

Post School Support

India is fourth among the top 10 nations with the highest numbers of out of children in primary level. Furthermore, the rate of school drop-outs amongst students is very high. One of the main reasons behind this is poverty. When earning a livelihood and taking care of the members of the family becomes a primary matter of concern in one's life, education stands a little or, very often, no chance of pursuance. For the underprivileged people in India, education is perceived as a high-priced luxury, and this negative outlook continues with every new generation.

"TAABAR Mobile Library Van is supporting the children who are financially unstable. They are provided extra classes and books to fulfill their education needs so that their education could not be suffered."

College Going Youth

Approximately 600 million populations in India are younger than 25 years of age and close to 70% of the total population is less than 40 years of age. Near about 40% of the Indian population is aged between 13 to 35 years that is defined as youth according to the National Youth Policy. it is clear that youth can bring a huge change.

"Only 30% people are able to speak English in India rest of the struggle with language. They feel low and inferior due to inability of speaking English language. At the Mobile Library Van, it has been observed that books related with English speaking are on high demand and get issued in majority."

Indian Youth at present is also facing acute pressure in every field from getting job to performance at the job. In rural areas, youth receive education hoping that he/she will get a good job.
